DR. REUBEN JONATHAN MILLER

University of Chicago sociologist Dr. Reuben Miller is the author of Halfway Home: Race, Punishment, and the Afterlife of Mass Incarceration. Working as a chaplain at the Cook County Jail in Chicago and now a sociologist studying mass incarceration, Miller spent years alongside prisoners, ex-prisoners, their friends, and their families to understand the lifelong burden that even a single arrest can entail. What his work revealed is a simple, if overlooked truth: life after incarceration is its own form of prison. Drawing on fifteen years of research and his own experience as the son and brother of incarcerated men, Miller captures the stories of the men, women, and communities fighting against a system that is designed for them to fail. Named one of its top books in 2021, NPR calls Halfway Home an “indictment of the criminal justice system [that] should trouble the soul of the nation,” and it was longlisted for the 2022 PEN America Literary Award.

Trapeta B. Mayson

Trapeta B. Mayson, 2020-2021 Philadelphia Poet Laureate. Mayson is the founder of Healing Verse Philly, which includes the Healing Verse Phone Line, a hallmark project of her poet laureate tenure. Mayson is a Pew, Academy of American Poets, and Aspen Word Fellow. She is also a Leeway Transformation, Leeway Art and Change, and Pennsylvania Council on the Arts awardee. She is the author of She Was Once Herself and Mocha Melodies. Mayson also released two music and poetry projects, SCAT and This Is How We Get Through, in collaboration with internationally acclaimed jazz guitarist, Monnette Sudler. Her other publications include submissions in The American Poetry Review, Toho Journal, Epiphany Literary Journal, Aesthetica Magazine, among others. Mayson’s artistic practice is embedded in community work. Through her artistic residencies, she has created and led projects in partnership with several institutions. As an educator and teaching artist, she develops and facilitates workshops in educational, social services, and other community-based settings for youth and adults.

CHARLES BALDWIN

V. Shayne Frederick

V. Shayne Frederick’s work as a recording artist, composer, educator, and performer spans well over two decades. He has been featured by TEDx, NPR, music festivals, museums, and jazz clubs throughout the country. His recent work includes a weekly musical series he’s curated for South Jazz Kitchen and JG Skyhigh at the Four Seasons in Philadelphia’s Comcast Technology Center. Outside of his busy performance schedule he’s an adjunct professor at The University of the Arts and a private music coach. V. Shayne grew up on a church piano bench next to his vocalist-pianist mother in rural North Carolina; his father performed contemporary Jazz saxophone in Philadelphia. V. Shayne’s first performances, however, were in the Dartmouth College Gospel Choir, for which he quickly rose to be the director by the time he was a sophomore.

20+ Fête for Justice Honorees

As we celebrate 20+ years, we honor 47 individuals from the four counties who paved the way for LASP to advocate for justice and protect basic human rights for our region's most vulnerable neighbors.
